If I had a choice of being a man or woman, I would be a man. One reason I would like it better because men have more professional sports to pick from that I like.

One reason that I wouldn't be a woman is that women have to go into labor and give birth to a child. In a way I would like to have a baby but I would rather be a father.

An advantage to being a man is that you don't have to wait in long lines for the bathroom at major events. A disadvantage to being a man is that men can't shop for clothes as good as a woman.

An advantage to being a woman is that they have bigger bathrooms and more waiting room. They are sometimes cleaner than the men's room.

This is why I think staying a man is better than being a woman.
